Fred: Don't believe you got a copy of this, but understand that you discussed its subject matter with [REDACTED] last week. Assume from what [REDACTED] says that you and he are negotiating further on actually obtaining some AD-5s, rather than earmarking them in the Fleet. I also inferred from [REDACTED] that a possibility existed that we might snatch some AD-5s without having to buy them outright.

When you have a moment I would (1) appreciate the latest status of this as it affects costs, and (2) the return of this paper when you have finished with it.

Oh yes, does [REDACTED] go along with the idea of actually taking title to some AD-5s if they can be pried loose. [REDACTED] mentioned that less than a couple of dozen remained in the Fleet, which makes me wonder if "in the Fleet until 1963" is right.
